

COMPANY: PORTO MUIÑOS

Sea of seaweed, sea for life: Galicia sea

PORTO-MUIÑOS is a family company, Antonio and Rosa Mirás, his wife, started in 1998 to market seaweed.

The first years they processed them to market in dehydrated and preserve.

Nowadays you can find out their products in powder, fresh in salt, fresh, these last with very success.

Their seaweeds are distributed in all points of Spanish territory, and in different countries in the five continents.

Antonio and Rosa base the success of their company in the study and popularization of the organoleptic features of seaweed.

This small company devotes space and time to elaborate other sea products from Galicia: delicate preserve of sea urchin roe, monkfish liver whose taste and texture have obtained a good qualification from experts, molluscs with seaweed, seaweed salads, seaweed tartar, and other products with all the taste and richness of the Atlantic.

Porto-Muiños remains faithful to their principles in managerial policy where the research and the respect for the environment occupy a priority place.

OUR SEAWEEDS ARE VEGETABLES FROM THE COLD WATERS OF THE ATLANTIC OCEAN. THEY ARE A SOURCE OF FIBRE, VITAMINS AND MINERALS.
